SWORN AFFIDAVIT
Human Rights Tribunal of Ontario – File No. 2025-64274-I
Brendan Rose v. Amazon.com.ca, Inc., Amazon Services LLC, and related entities

I, BRENDAN ROSE, of the City of Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, MAKE OATH AND SAY AS FOLLOWS:

1. I am the Applicant and have personal knowledge of the facts deposed to herein.
2. Between 2022 and the present, the Respondent published and sold more than fifty (50) of my books on its platform, including but not limited to:
    - JUDGE (BEFORE YOU DECIDE) by JUSTICE MAG
    - HIKARI NO UTA
    - THE HAUNTED HOUSE by H.P. Lovecraft AI Replicant

    and many others.
3. Despite this large catalogue, the total royalties I received from all sales across all titles amounted to only a few dollars (sometimes a few cents per month). These earnings were unusually low given the number, length, and quality of the works.
4. These small royalties, though minimal, were sufficient to be treated as earned income under the Ontario Disability Support Program (ODSP), which allowed me an additional $100 per month in benefits. This $100 was a non-trivial portion of my total income.
5. Many other important books central to my creed were refused publication outright by the Respondent or were removed after initial acceptance.
6. The Respondent was aware, through prior publication and sale of my works, that the content was inseparable from my sincerely held creed.
7. The permanent termination of my accounts and the suppression or refusal of visibility for my catalogue eliminated my only viable source of income compatible with my disabilities and creed-based practice.
8. As a direct and foreseeable consequence, I experienced prolonged periods of food deprivation and chronic hunger, sometimes lasting weeks, during which I had little or nothing to eat beyond charitable assistance.
9. In Canadian and international human-rights law, the intentional or foreseeable infliction of severe suffering (physical or mental) for a discriminatory purpose or as reprisal can constitute cruel, inhuman, or degrading treatment. Prolonged deprivation of adequate food that is the direct result of discriminatory conduct falls within that category.
10. I ask the Tribunal to direct the Respondent to provide full particulars and comment on:
    - whether my account or any of my titles were ever suppressed, shadow-banned, or otherwise reduced in visibility;
    - the reasons for the unusually low sales figures across more than fifty published titles; and
    - the refusal to publish numerous additional works central to my creed.
11. I make this affidavit in support of my claim for monetary compensation for injury to dignity, pain and suffering, lost income, and the severe physical and psychological effects of the deprivation I suffered, and for no improper purpose.

SWORN REMOTELY by Brendan
Rose stated as being located in the
